

TIME FOR SCHOOLS TO REGISTER FOR THE 2011 NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC BEE - Fee Goes Up After October 15

The National Geographic Bee is a school competition for students in any grades four through eight. Excite your students about the world around them and reward those who excel in their knowledge of geography by giving them a chance to compete in a school geographic bee.

Schools registered by October 15, 2010 will pay $90 fee and will receive their contest materials in early November. Registration after October 15 will be $110. Go to www.nationalgeographic.com/geobee to get complete information and other dates and deadlines.
